Now out: Second edition , Basic Immunology for students of Medicine and Biology edited by Professor L.S. Salimonu.

Lecturers, researchers and Students of Immunology are hereby informed that the Second Edition of Basic Immunology for students of Medicine and Biology is now out. The high demand for the first print of this book, resulting in the sale of the first 1000 copies in three months has necessitated the production of the second Edition which is also selling fast. The encouragement shown by the readers is gratifying to the Editor and his co-authors.

Special supplement on HIV/AIDS: Call for papers

African Journal of Medicine and Medical Sciences, a quarterly publication of College of Medicine/UCH, Ibadan, invites papers from interested scholars for publication in the supplementary issue on HIV/AIDS which will be published soon.
